

Question No.	Question	Response
1	Is the Contractor permitted to engage subcontractors for parts of the scope of work?	Yes, this is permitted. However, it is the responsibility of the main contracting entity to manage any subcontractors it chooses to engage with to ensure that they are compliant with the contract.
2	Is the Contractor permitted to collaborate with a university/higher education institution for parts of the scope of work? (e.g. a student writing his/her master's thesis on this subject and contributing to the work packages who might partially publish the results of this project in his/her master's thesis, if required with a blocking notice)	Yes, this is permitted however it is the responsibility of the main contracting entity to ensure that they are compliant with the contract. In addition, no results from the work will be allowed to be published publicly or shared as part of any thesis.